Dusk settles over the columns of Baskervill Library.

Published by the Senior Class of

SULLINS COLLEGE

BRISTOL, VIRGINIA

Life at

Sullins is like a Mosaic

Each day at Sullins is a block toward the completion of our mosaic, a mosaic constructed in a sensitive pattern of happiness, loneliness, discouragement, and triumph of our college days.

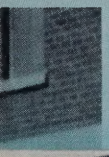
Each square is a separate mood, a feeling we created or found here at Sullins: the breathlessness of our hilltop view, the mail truck rumbling up to the post office, Dr. Loomis' organ recitals.

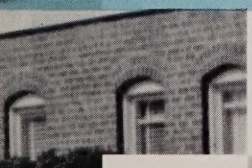
As we learn and study, each piece takes on a new or different meaning for us. We build our mosaic with a fuller understanding of ways of life, the inspiration of religion, and our responsibility to ourselves.

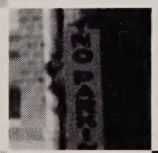
Our mosaic is rich in its associations and memories—remembering our first night at Sullins when everything, now so familiar, was strange, confusing.

The mosaic has color. Each section reflects the colors at Sullins—the dusky red brick building, the sturdy white columns, the maroon and gold at games, and the moody "Green Machine."

The most impressive part of our mosaic is its endurance— the lasting friendships, the useful knowledge. In the 1959 SAMPLER, we have conceived and present in the pages to follow a mosaic design of our college life—the memories we have of Sullins.







DEDICATION

For his many hours of patient guidance, many days of friendliness and years of sincere concern, the Sullins Seniors of 1959 dedicate this SAMPLER to Mr. Benjamin F. Wheless.

For his ever-present smile and words of encouragement, for his many lectures on buckling down to study and on how to study, for the calm, "Now don't panic," when chaos reigns outside or inside his office, we show our appreciation.

To Mr. Wheless, who lives modern—in new ideas, in understanding and outlook—we give the finished product, our mosaic; for it is he who has helped us mold it and ourselves in the pattern we would like it to be.

MR. BENJAMIN F. WHELESS, Director of Guidance at Sullins

Baskervill Library is on the right as you enter the college gates.

Holston Hall is where the seniors live.

Sullins College was established in 1870 by the Reverend David Sullins, D.D.

Until it burned in 1915, the college was affiliated with the Methodist Church. The new college built in 1917, however, was reorganized as an independent, non-sectarian junior college, with Dr. William E. Martin as president.

Under the leadership of Dr. Martin and Mrs. Martin, who served as dean of women, many new buildings were added; and their intellectual and cultural guidance influenced the lives of all the Sullins girls of those years.

Since Mr. W. T. Martin became president in 1950, the college has continued to grow in size and prestige. Today it not only preserves high academic standards but meets the specific needs of the young college woman in contemporary life.

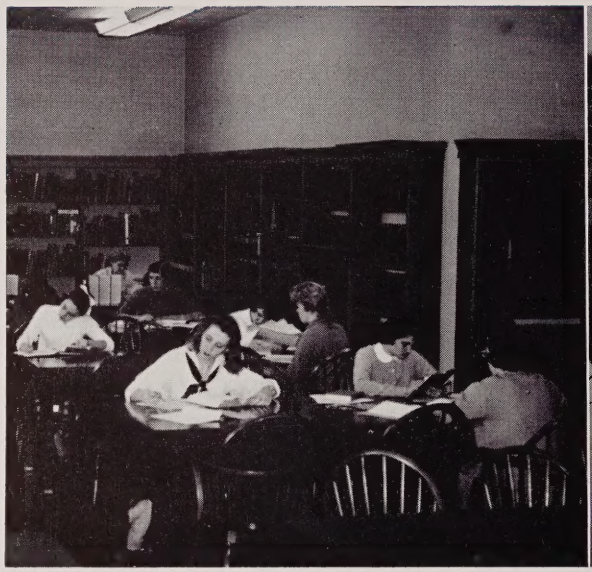
The College . . . and .

Sullins College emphasizes liberal arts foundation courses which prepare its students to enter four-year colleges with advanced standing. Strong courses in English, science, mathematics, languages, humanities, religion, social science, psychology, and speech lead to the Associate in Arts Degree.



English students work on term papers under the supervision of Miss Loyless.

Mr. Heinsohn's French class practices on the tape recorder.

Senior shorthand students transcribe from their notes.

Sue Bozarth and Jean Silver alter a Mardi Gras costume under Mrs. Cash's direction.

Well-planned courses in home economics—clothing, foods, textiles, consumer economics, home management—as well as in business—merchandising, secretarial, medical secretarial, economics, accounting, and general business—lead to the Associate in Applied Science Degree.

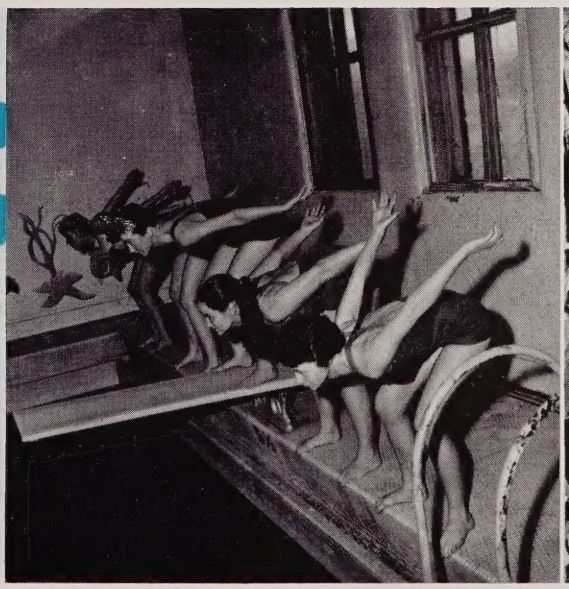
Mr. Vance presents an interesting demonstration to his physical science class.

Chemistry students use the scales in their experiment.

In 1956 the chemistry and biology laboratories were remodeled and modernized. In the fall of 1957, two new courses were introduced—Science 17-18, Survey of the Physical Sciences, and Science 19-20, Survey of the Biological Sciences, these in addition to the standard courses in zoology, botany, chemistry, anatomy and physiology.

The Physical Education Department has available not only the facilities at the college but also at Camp Sequoya on South Holston Lake, where boating, sailing, and water skiing are popular. The college has its own stables and indoor and outdoor riding rings.



Miss Davis and her life saving students get set for a dive.

Mrs. Heflin shows her class a wrist-strengthening exercise.

Mr. Sella's art students find their attractive studio conducive to creative effort.

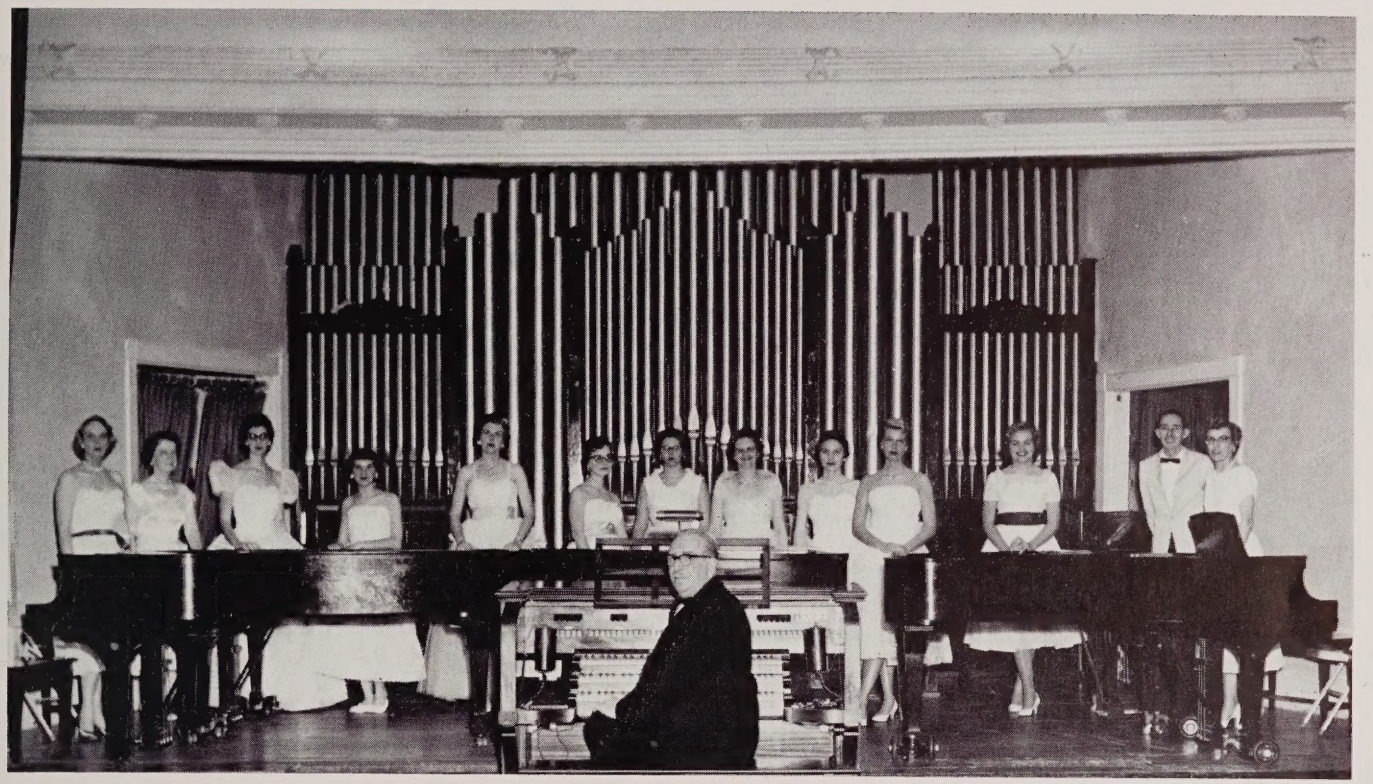
Mr. Fleming gives Elaine Everwijn a voice lesson.

Sullins awards the Associate in Fine Arts Degree for successful completion of work in music, art, and the dance. The college is well known for its excellence in these departments. Dr. C. C. Loomis is Chairman of the Music Department; Mr. Leon B. Fleming, Jr., is director of the Choir and Ensemble; Madame Besa Sklarsky directs the dance; and Mr. Alvin Sella is Chairman of the Art Department.

The Fine Arts Building, with dance studio, voice and piano studios, and practice rooms, was completed for the fall term of 1956. The attractive Art Studio, which is located on the top floor of Martin Hall, was completely redecorated in 1957-58.

Final Performance

Faculty Work Together

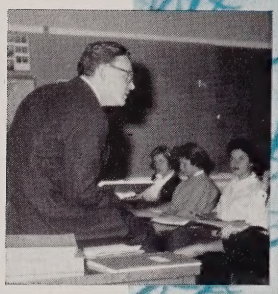


The symphony, presented by piano and organ majors during "Music Week," is directed by Dr. Loomis.

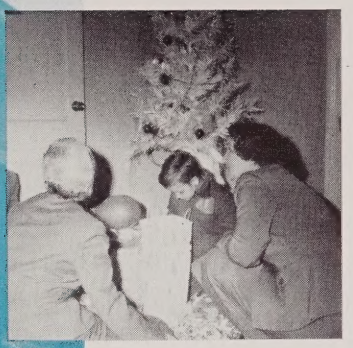
The Sullins Mardi Gras represents a fine blending of the work of the Art Department, the Choir, the Dance Department, and the Drama Department. Noel Coward's "Bittersweet," under the direction of Miss Sylvia Strickland, was an especially beautiful example of the close working together of these groups.

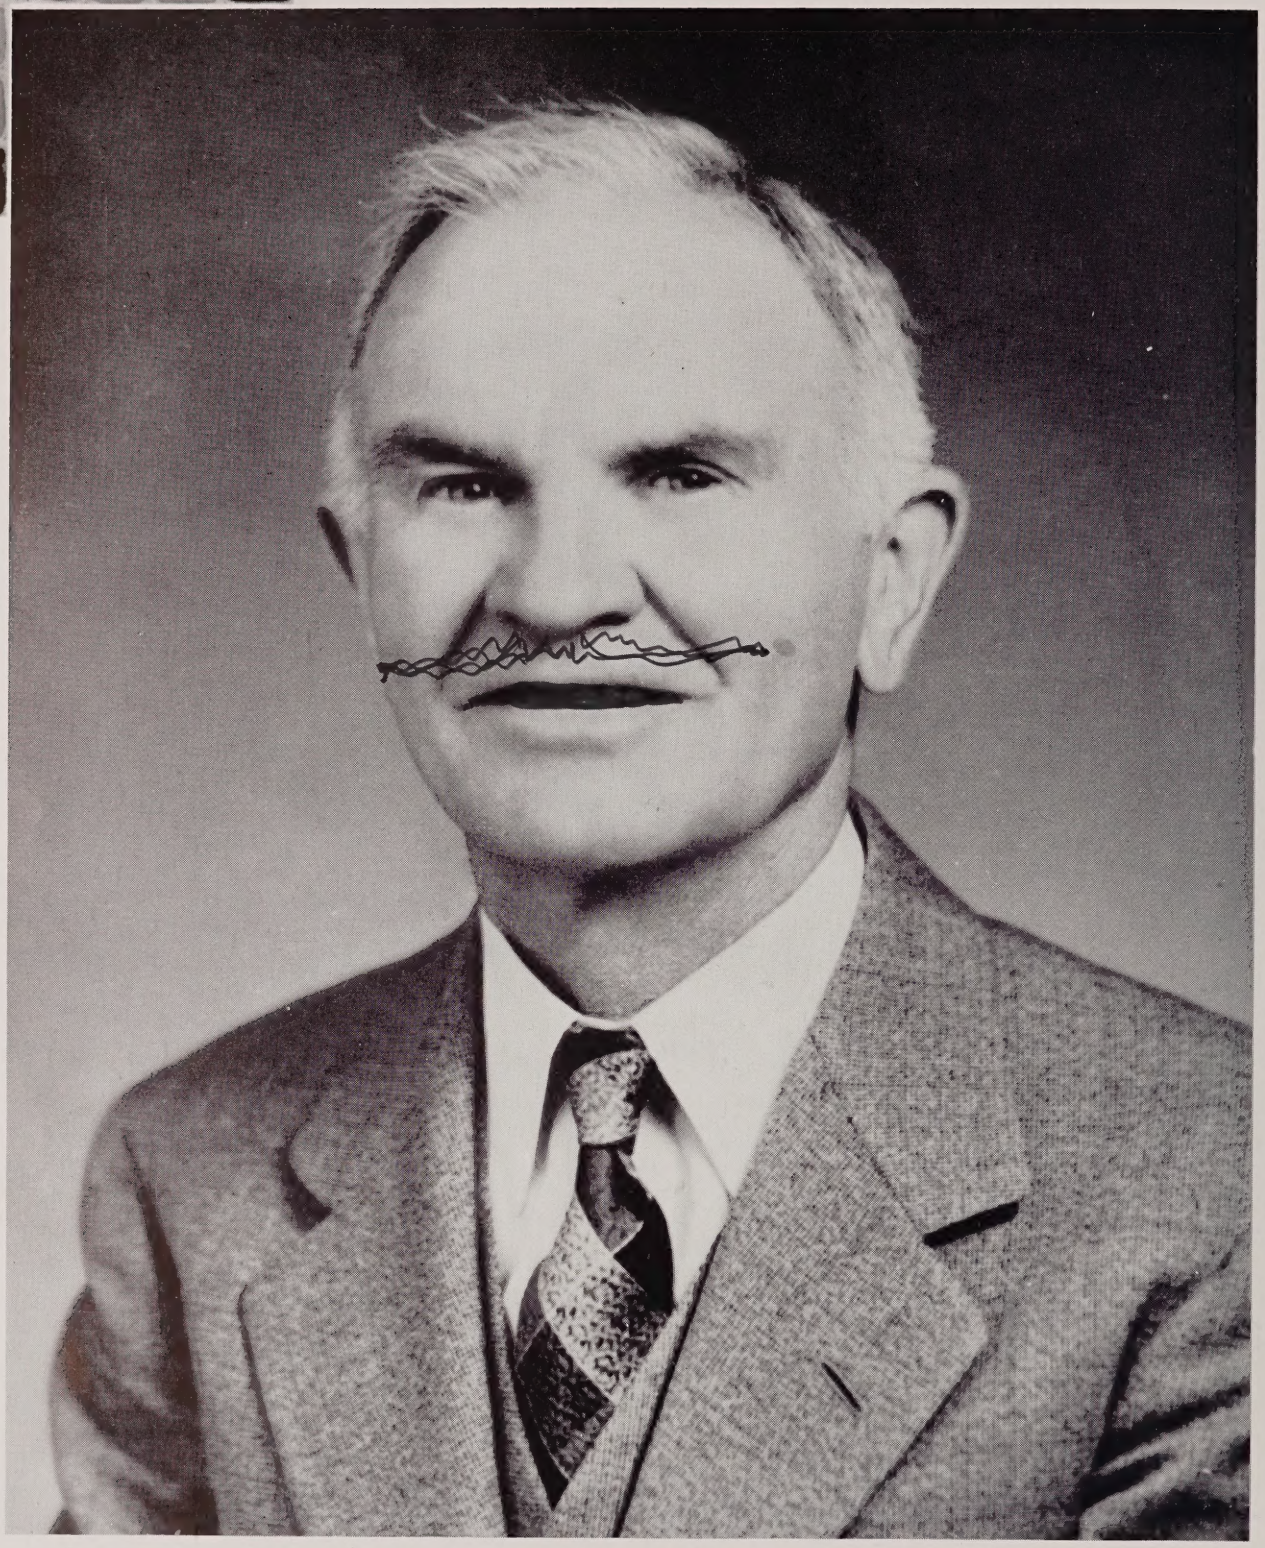
Another traditional performance is that of the Sullins Symphony, directed by Dr. Loomis. Ample opportunities are also offered for music students to perform at student recitals, graduation recitals, and at the numerous appearances of the Choir and Ensemble. The May Day pageant at Commencement climaxes the efforts of the Dance Department.

Madame Sklarsky gives her dancers last-minute instructions before Mardi Gras.



FACULTY





Dr. W. E. Martin, President Emeritus of Sullins College, died February 25, 1959. He had been retired from the active presidency since 1950.

Dr. Martin received his M.A. Degree at old Southern University, now Birmingham-Southern College, in 1896 and his Ph.D Degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1901. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Born in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama, on February 21, 1874, he died just four days after his eighty-fifth birthday.

DR. MARTIN first came to the "old" Sullins in 1904. It was during his first presidency there that he married Amelia McTyeire Baskervill, who was later to become one of Sullins' most beloved personalities. Although Dr. Martin left Bristol in 1910 to hold other positions in Alabama and Tennessee, when the "old" Sullins was destroyed by fire in 1915, he came back to accept the presidency and to rebuild the school on its present beautiful site.

In a sense, then, Dr. Martin both literally and figuratively built the "new" Sullins. From the fall of 1917 when Martin Hall was the only building and the bathtubs were outside on the campus ready to be installed the day the first term began—to the time when most of the present plant was completed, Dr. Martin's was the guiding spirit of the school, building, beautifying, teaching—and working always for a better Sullins.

Though Dr. Martin is not with us in body, his spirit will live on in the halls where his familiar admonition, "Everybody right quiet now" is still remembered, in the chapel where he made his famous chapel talks on history and current events and told his jokes and sang with the girls "Work for the Night is Coming."

The night has come for Dr. Martin physically; but for "his girls," who have scattered to every state in the Union, and indeed to all parts of the world, he will live forever.

His wit and the pleasant drawl of his voice as he talked, the familiar, warm smile, and the twinkle in the eyes that went with it, will not be forgotten as long as there is a Sullins girl to remember.

William T. Martin

Mr. William T. Martin, the busy and popular President of Sullins College since 1950, received his A.B. Degree from Washington and Lee University and his LL.B. Degree from Harvard University.

Mr. Martin is sincerely interested in every phase of life at Sullins and in every one of us. He makes us just as welcome in his own home for a hamburger fry as we are anywhere else on the campus.

Daniel L. Metts

Dean Metts, Dean of Faculty since 1926, is a graduate of Emory University, where he received his B.Ph. and his M.A. degrees. He has also done graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

At the very beginning of our college careers, it is he who places the first stepping stone toward academic achievement. His interest in us and his high standards challenge all of us to do our best work.

Margaret Johnson

Dean Johnson, Dean of Women since 1954, holds a B.A. degree from DePauw University and an M.A. degree from Northwestern University.

Before assuming her present duties, Miss Johnson taught in the Business Department at Sullins and was a favorite among Senior secretarial majors.

Her personal interest in us as individuals and her sympathy with our problems make Dean Johnson a wise and understanding Dean of Women.

CLASSES

What is more typical than "chatter" at the senior Hut table?

Upon our arrival in September of 1957, we as individuals were yet to realize the pattern that we would form throughout our two years at Sullins.

The pattern began to take form as we became more acquainted with our classmates and the Seniors at the Hut party and especially during "Rat Week."

The Junior-Senior Banquet was the first important event that we as a class gave. Then came the VPI trips, the "Y" party for underprivileged children, Christmas vacation, and finally exams. Mardi Gras was the highlight of our first college year. We all worked and planned for it—and loved it!

One-half the pattern was formed as the time came when we were saying good-bye to the Seniors and our fellow classmates, most of us to return to finish the pattern of our Sullins days.

It did not seem long until we came back to Sullins in the fall, this time as the Seniors who were to guide and help the Juniors.

During Orientation week, there were Hut parties and a trip to the Island to help us become better acquainted with the new girls. We tried to be sympathetic with the homesick ones, but really we felt a little superior, for we had met this problem long ago and overcome it.

SENIORS

After the first week of our Senior year, we as big sisters began to get to know our little sisters by circulating among them, by visiting them in their rooms, and by entertaining them at the Senior Tea.

Soon Rat Week came, but this time there was a big difference—we were the ones to give the orders!

During the fall, and especially after Thanksgiving, we were kept busy with term papers, tests, the Junior-Senior Banquet, Christmas caroling; and somehow we were still alive when Christmas came.

We returned to school with exams staring us in the face and reminding us that study is one of the most important phases of our school life at Sullins. But we survived and started looking forward to Mardi Gras, when our queen and princess, chosen from the Senior Class, would be presented.

Peanut Week and pizza and bridge parties were just a few of the many activities before Easter. Then came one of the big experiences of our college years—the trip to Bermuda, that wonderful holiday island of white sands and coral beaches.

At last it was May, with the fast-approaching events that climaxed our life at Sullins. There were the Senior Chapel, May Day, the Graduation Dance, the smorgasbord, and finally Graduation—first a fact, then confusion of wrinkled gowns, good-byes, last-minute messages, promises to write, and, yes—tears.

Thus our experiences together and wonderful friendships completed the pattern—the Class of 1959. Each of us was a tiny piece of the pattern, necessary to make it whole and beautiful—and never forgotten.

Members of the Mardi Gras court are waiting for the opening curtain.

Sullins—the name had been in our minds all summer, and here we were at last, walking up the front steps with fast-beating hearts. As we opened those majestic white doors and got our first glimpse of Martin Hall, many questions hurried through our minds; but new and exciting events soon answered them and put our fears to rest.

First there was the hut party, where we learned the school songs from the fabulous "Cotton Pickers." Those unfamiliar names and faces that we thought we could never connect were soon placed together to become our everlasting friends.

We met our "big sisters," who were to guide us through the year; and then, without warning—"RAT WEEK"! How we laughed at ourselves in those crazy outfits and hairdos. We carried buckets to classes and did hilarious stunts, as the Seniors directed our every move.

Then we got down to work, with visions of A's dancing before our eyes as we stayed up most of the night studying for big tests. Alas! when grades came out, those visions of A's quickly faded, and we tried to explain it all to our families at home.

JUNIORS

In no time at all, it was Christmas. The children's party and the Christmas service in the chapel had put us in just the right mood; and with mixed emotions of happiness and regret at leaving our friends, we went home for three weeks of being treated like a queen.

After vacation, the ordeal of exams faced us; but somehow we all managed to live through it, knowing that soon we would be dancing with our boy friends at Mardi Gras. Sponsored by our class, it was an unforgettable week end, beginning with the play and the tea dance and ending with the Mardi Gras Ball, climaxed by the presentation of the queen, the princess, and all the lovely ladies of her court.

Spring brought flowers to the campus, another trip home—or to the golden sands of Bermuda—the choir tour, the Kentucky Derby trip; and before we knew it, exams, May Day, and graduation. With tears in our eyes, we watched the Seniors, whom we had grown so close to, march down to get their diplomas.

As we look back, our first year of college at an end, we think of it as a year full of many kinds of experiences and many wonderful friends, and the saddest thing of all is leaving them. But it isn't really good-bye, for we will see them again in September; and we will spend the summer anticipating our next year at Sullins and hoping to live up to the Seniors, who have left Sullins behind them.

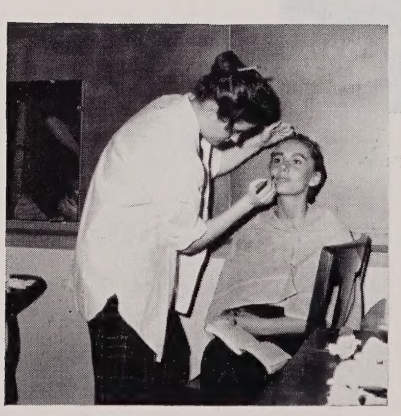
ORGANIZATIONS



DE THE BUS

BETTE HUNT
President of Judicial Council

The Judical Council is the judical body of the Student Government Association. The Council's purpose is to encourage each girl to carry out the rules and the Honor Code as stated in the Sullins College Constitution. Any student violating these principles is subject to the jurisdiction of the Council and the Faculty Advisory Committee.

Judicial Council Upholds Honor Code

MEMBERS OF JUDICIAL COUNCIL: (Seated) Sandra Elliott, Shirley Slaughter, Bette Hunt, Mary Rukert, Gail Mapes. (Standing) Sue Green, Dottie May, Nan Davidson, Jeanie Smith, Julie Hooks, Beverly Foard, Mel Leach, Dee Myers, Donna Smith.

The president and the vice-president are elected by the student body, but each class elects its own representatives. This year, the Council sponsored a pizza party in January to promote school spirit and harmony between the classes. The Council strives to foster loyalty, a sense of integrity, and respect for the high ideals of the college.

OFFICERS: Shirley Slaughter, Secretary; Dean Johnson, Adviser; Mary Rukert, Vice-President; Bette Hunt, President.

The Presidents' Council is the legislative and administrative body of the Student Government Association. The Council's duties include supervising elections, working with the Home Department and with the clubs in planning their activities, and generally promoting school spirit. The Council is composed of the presidents of all campus organizations.

NAN DAVIDSON
President of Student Body

House Councils are Important

HOLSTON HOUSE COUNCIL: Linda Roll, Linda Wall, Dottie May, President; Carey Butler, Pam Raub. (Kneeling) Carolyn Grigg, Muffie Ridlon, Donna Kiser. (Standing) Sue Rodgers, Glenna Rutherford, Soney Schatz, Mrs. Stoner.

An important part of college life here at Sullins, as in every dormitory, is the successful functioning of the House Council in smoothing out the everyday problems that come with living and working together.

The House Council consists of representatives from Holston, Martin, and Reynolds Halls, each group elected by their class. Each dormitory has a president, who presides over the meetings and works closely with the representatives, other class officers, and the residence counselor.

Residence counselors are Mrs. Rex Stoner, Holston; Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Martin; and Mrs. Nelle Parham, Reynolds.

MARTIN HOUSE COUNCIL: Pat Crandall, Judy Tyree, Ann Raub, Susanne Daniel, Mrs. Jenkins. (Standing) Pat DeWitt, Theresa Ward, Sandra Elliott, President; Peggy Wilson, Laura Williams.

REYNOLDS HOUSE COUNCIL: Suzie Ringler, Linda Tumlin, Jeanie Smith, Pres.; Sandra Brown, Jackie Salomon, Mrs. Parham. (Standing) Joyce Graft, Beverly Folger, Adele Hutton, Martha Heizer, Janice Korb, Lyndall Pech.

Part of Dormitory Life

House Council members keep order during study hall, check rooms for cleanliness, take room check to see that each girl is in her room at the designated time, and help with any problems which the girls on the halls may have.

They report on such problems in the weekly meetings of the House Council and try to work out a solution which is satisfactory to all involved.

Since there are so few Council members, they must depend upon the full cooperation of every girl here at Sullins. The Council tries to give each student a sense of responsibility and to establish harmony in dorm life.

Pictures, layouts, and copy are only one phase of SAMPLER activity. The staff also had a booth at the Hallowe'en Carnival and gave the Christmas dance the first week in December.

In the midst of Senior summaries and picture problems, the staff dropped everything to plan this dance, so that Sullins "Suzies" might dance in a land of red and white fantasy, dreaming of holiday festivities yet to come.

After Christmas and until the final deadline in March, the staff worked furiously with layouts, pictures, ads, write-ups, color, and cover designs.

At last the big thrill came at the SAMPLER Banquet with the presentation of the finished book, the result of a whole year's work: The staff all agreed it was really worth it, after all!

Soney and Janie decorate for SAMPLER Dance.

Sullins Suzies enjoy the SAMPLER Dance.

YWCA installs cabinet at Vespers.

The YWCA is Center of Religious Life at Sullins

Under the leadership of Carolyn Kelley and her cabinet and the guidance of Miss Jane Gregg, the Young Women's Christian Association is the center of religious activity carried on here at Sullins.

The "Y's" Friday morning chapel service and the Sunday evening vesper service provide inspiration through guest speakers, special music, and programs by the students themselves. In the early fall, a time is set aside for Religious Emphasis Week, with a guest minister who speaks in chapel and talks to any groups or individuals who desire counseling. This year, Reverend Richard Beasley, of St. John's Episcopal Church in Roanoke, was the guest speaker.

The highlight of the Christmas season was the party for the underpriviliged children. Next, following the rush of exams, came Peanut Week, with surprises for everyone each day. The real surprises came the closing night, when all the "secret peanuts" were unmasked at the party in the gym.

The most important project of the "Y" continues to be the building of a Little Chapel on the campus.

Chest representatives collect pledges.

Campus Chest Sponsors Annual Drive

Sullins has only one charitable organization—the Campus Chest—which conducts an annual drive for such causes as the Red Cross, the Cancer Fund, the March of Dimes, the World University Service, and the Christian Children's Fund. This money is to be designated as the students wish.

Composed of representatives from each hall, who ask the individual students for their contributions, the "Chest" acts as a co-ordinating agency to see that the objects of student charity are wisely selected and that the students are not exploited by constant demands for giving.

This organization, sponsored by Mrs. C. C. Loomis, is not compulsory, but the students support the drive with enthusiasm and a real desire to help those in need. In fact, they have subscribed 100 per cent this year.

Campus Chest officers are Linda Peterson, President; Donna Kiser, Vice-President; Marcia Pauley, Secretary; and Judy Legros, Treasurer.

Sullins Has a Choir of Sixty Voices

The Sullins Choir of sixty voices is under the direction of Mr. Leon B. Fleming, with Miss Betty Trexell as accompanist. Two hours of academic credit are given for membership in the organization.

At the Religious Emphasis Week programs held in the fall, the Choir presented a group of sacred selections, including "Hallelujah" and "The Omnipotence" by Schubert.

On December 14, the Choir presented its formal Christmas Concert in the college chapel for the student body and the townspeople. Earlier that week, the singers presented the program for the Lions and Rotary Clubs of Bristol. Soloists were Jane Campbell and Theresa Ward.

The first main project of the second semester was the Choir's participation in the Mardi Gras production, "Bittersweet," by Noel Coward. Throughout the show, the Choir appeared in colorful costumes and strongly supported the show, singing four of the lovely choral selections.

Theresa Ward was chosen for the vocal lead, and six of the supporting roles were played by Jane Campbell, Pat Moss, Carole Winemiller, Kathy Jackson, Martha Heizer, and Bobbie Jo Ebner.

In April, the Choir took its Spring Concert tour. The highlights of the trip were the performances at Davidson College and at Vanderbilt University. One group on the program at Nashville featured the combined Sullins and Vanderbilt Choirs, with Mr. Leon B. Fleming and Dr. Cyrus Daniel, of Vanderbilt, alternating as the conductors.

During Music Week in May, the Sullins College Choir sang a full-length concert in Kingsport under the sponsorship of the Kingsport Music Club, which gave a tea in honor of the Choir members after the concert was over.

Commencement week was a busy time for the Sullins singers. They were heard in the final concert on Friday evening and again at the baccalaureate and graduation programs on Sunday, May 31.

Music Club Honors Brian Sullivan

To promote an interest in music of all types is the purpose of the Music Club at Sullins, which was originated by students in the department and is sponsored by the music faculty.

This group encourages Sullins students to attend musical programs at the college and civic concerts in which outstanding artists appear.

While its membership consists largely of majors in the department, the club is open to all who love music.

One of the social events of the year was a coffee honoring Brian Sullivan, Metropolitan Opera star, who visited the campus in the fall.

From the membership of the Sullins College Choir, thirty girls are selected to form the Vocal Ensemble.

This group, directed by Mr. Leon B. Fleming, Jr., and accompanied by Dr. C. C. Loomis, is known for its participation in the Mardi Gras production and its presentation of special music for Religious Emphasis Week and for the Sunday vesper programs. The group studies advanced choral technique in music of all periods.

The Ensemble members serve as ushers at musical programs presented in the chapel at Sullins College.

An honor-winning newspaper, the Sullins Reflector presents an interesting view of campus life and alumnae activities. Published once a month, the Reflector, which is sponsored by Miss Angie Loyless, gives each staff member an opportunity to show her creative talent. This talent is displayed in editorials, sports copy, humor, and feature writing.

In the spring at the Reflector banquet, the Mirror Girl Award was presented to Nan Davidson, who, by student body vote, exemplifies the most outstanding qualities of a Sullins College girl.

One of the most worth-while organizations on the Sullins campus is the Radio Workshop. Its membership is open to the whole student body.

The purpose of the organization is to teach students to speak on the radio, to give radio scripts, and to operate radio equipment. Their work in producing, writing, and acting is supervised by Miss Elizabeth Greene, the club sponsor.

During exam week the Radio Workshop members keep our spirits and "weight" up by selling food—candy and sandwiches—after study hall is over.

Workshop members are set up for a broadcast.

Art Club Presents Student Work

Organized to give the students a better understanding of conventional and modern art in painting, sculpture, metal work, and architecture and to give an opportunity for self-expression, the Art Club, sponsored by Mr. Alvin C. Sella, is limited to Senior art majors and a few of the promising Juniors.

Student art work of merit is presented at the annual spring art exhibit held in the art studio. This event is well attended by students, faculty, and commencement guests.

Dance Club Members Acquire Poise

OFFICERS: Janet Groce, Social Chairman; Nancy Overstreet, Vice-President; Binnie Pulliam, President; Georgia Tomlinson, Treasurer; Jeannie Marston, Secretary.

The Dance Club, sponsored by Madame Besa Sklarsky, is open for membership to the entire student body, with emphasis on the dancing class members and majors. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in dancing of all types and to help its members acquire rhythm, poise, and grace. Binnie Pulliam is president of the club.

The Dance Studio, located in the Fine Arts Building, is the center of many informal gatherings, including the open house held after many of the dance recitals. The guests are royally entertained with delicious refreshments and with routines especially prepared by the dance majors.

The club's Christmas open house, to which all students and faculty members are invited is one of the most festive of the pre-holiday parties.

Dance Club members who are in "Madame's" dancing classes always delight the Sullins audience with their performance in the Mardi Gras production and in the May Day pageant. They give programs for civic groups, appear on local television stations, and take trips to see famous ballet companies perform.

Sullins Players Present "Our Town"

Under the leadership of Beverly Hampson and the guidance of Miss Sylvia Strickland, formerly with Barter Theatre, the Sullins Players try to keep alive at Sullins an interest in drama and the theatre.

The Sullins Players present each year a series of traditional and modern plays. The fall play, "Our Town," presented in the Little Theatre, gave both the Juniors and the Seniors their first opportunity to show their dramatic ability this year.

The result was a very pleasing production for the audience and a sense of satisfaction of a job well done for the members of the cast.

The Mardi Gras Play, "Bittersweet," incorporated the "Players" in everything from acting, costumes, and make-up, to lighting and directing.

OFFICERS: Julie Shumate, Vice-President; Nancy Greven, Social Chairman; Diane Frisbie, Secretary-Treasurer. (Standing) Beverly Hampson, President.

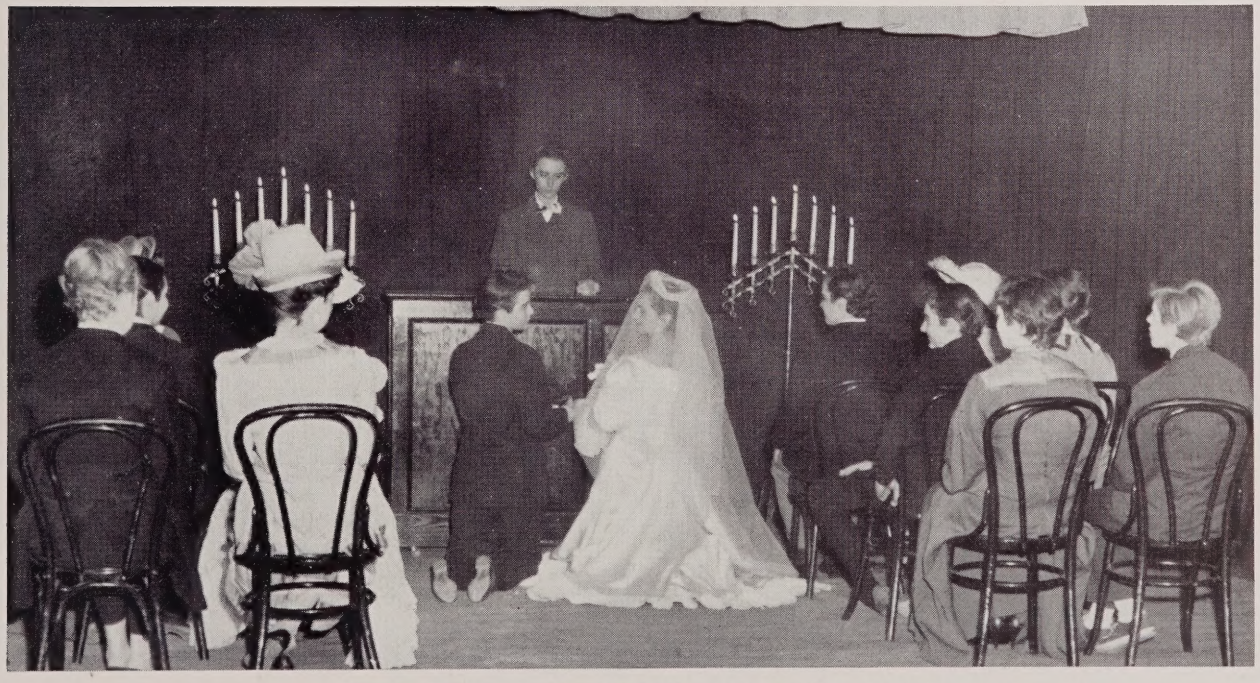
In April, the Players gave three one-act plays—"The White Iris," "The Dabblers," and "Ah, Romance." From all these plays, an outstanding performer and member of the Players will be chosen for the Margaret Sullavan Award. Awards are given, too, for the best single performance and the best supporting role.



The wedding was the most beautiful scene from "Our Town."

Science Club gives Christmas party for new members.

Science Club Has Spring Chapel Program

Promoting an interest in all phases of the scientific world is the purpose of the Science Club. The club, sponsored by Mrs. C. C. Loomis and Miss Esther Hilton, is one of the two honorary societies on the campus. For membership, one must have and maintain a "B" average in all scientific courses.

Among the first activities of the club is a Christmas party given by old members for the new members recently inducted. Other activities include the spring chapel program and visits to hospitals and TVA dams. It is a tradition of the club to buy and label each year a tree for the Arboretum.

Phi Theta Kappa Recognizes Scholarship

Outstanding scholarship at Sullins is recognized by membership in Phi Theta Kappa. The Sullins chapter, Zeta Chi, which is the only Greek letter society on campus, was organized in 1948-49. The pin, in the shape of an old-fashioned watch key, may be worn by all initiated members. Graduates wear gold tassels on their caps.

Membership in Phi Theta Kappa is not based on scholarship alone, but on character and leadership as well. The new members, taken from the upper 10 per cent of the student body, were announced in February and initiated in a special Sunday Vesper service in April. Mrs. G. P. Fisher sponsors the Sullins chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

Pickers play for Mardi Gras Hut Party.

Whether boosting our morale or having just a plain old "jam session," the Cotton Pickers are our answer to the Kingston Trio.

This enthusiastic crowd, playing spoons, washboard, clickers, shakers, tambourines, drums, washtub, and "ukes," are on hand—at exam time, hut parties, the night before vacations, or just any time they feel like putting everyone in a good humor.

The Pickers are not only well liked here on campus, but these blue-jeaned, pigtailed, freckle-faced girls are also in great demand by the PTA, the Kiwanis Club, and other civic organizations in the Tri-City area.

At the end of school the newly-recorded "Picker Platter," one of our Sullins souvenirs, will be carefully packed to take home.

Villagers Share in Student Government

To help the town students to keep in close contact with activities on campus, the Villagers' Club was formed.

This club is made up of local girls who commute daily from their homes to Sullins classes. They also participate in all school activities, such as the YWCA Christmas party, Peanut Week and the Sullins dances. They are eligible for elections to any office on campus or any social honor.

Being represented on the Presidents' Council, the Villagers have their part in making the rules which are set up for the student body. This has made them feel closer to the boarding students, to the faculty, and to the school as a whole.

OFFICERS: Hedy Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer; Betty Bingham, Vice-President; Audrey Kiser, President.

Of the three Senior members of the Villagers, Audrey Kiser is the president, Shirley Slaughter is secretary of the Judicial Council, and Diane Deans, a transfer Senior, works in the office of the Registrar. The Juniors in the group have varied interests. Anne Blakesly and Jane Kendle are interested in art; Hedy Anderson enjoys reading; and Betty Bingham writes for the Sullins Reflector.

AA Awards Letters

Races for more and better missiles are not the only races prevalent in our twirling times. The Athletic Association has sponsored many kinds of competitive sports at Sullins this year.

To start off with a big "bang," the AA sponsored the Island trip, with swimming, water skiing, canoeing, and just plain "exploring" and getting acquainted.

The fall schedule also included such fun activities as the AA Bonfire and the Penny Arcade, with field hockey and horseback riding as the chief fall sports.

When spring came, however, the Suzies turned to the popular outdoor sports of tennis, softball, and golf.

At the annual AA Banquet in the spring, letters were awarded for participation in team sports, with the highest honors going to the two girls considered the best all-around athletes on the campus.

Miss Helen Davis is sponsor of the AA. Mrs. George Heflin and Mrs. Frank Barber have also given much time, effort and enthusiasm to its activities.

The cheerleaders practice their cheer, "Mumble-Mumble."

The AA sponsored the Penny Arcade at the Hallowe'en Carnival.

Hockey Team is Victorious

Climbing our "Sullins Summit" and being bruised and sore didn't seem to daunt our victorious hockey team this year, for they had what it takes—enthusiasm, team spirit, and a remarkable ability for the game.

Although Marion College was the only foe, Sullins won three games out of the four played. As hockey is a relatively new sport here, every Suzi can be proud of the showing made by the hockey team.

Sullins' team lost the first game to Marion, 3-2, but came back stronger and more experienced, to defeat Marion in the second game, 5-4. From then on, the Marion team couldn't seem to hold back the determined Suzies. The third game was Sullins' victory, 4-2, as was the final game, 1-0.

Sullins meets Marion on the home field.

Basketball Team Gets Loyal Support

A sense of success and pride in a job well done climaxed one of the best basketball seasons Sullins has ever had. The 1959 season, marked by enthusiasm and determination on the part of both players and supporters, began with tryouts January 7 and continued through ten games. The 15-member squad was well prepared to meet its opponents. Miss Helen Davis coached the team.

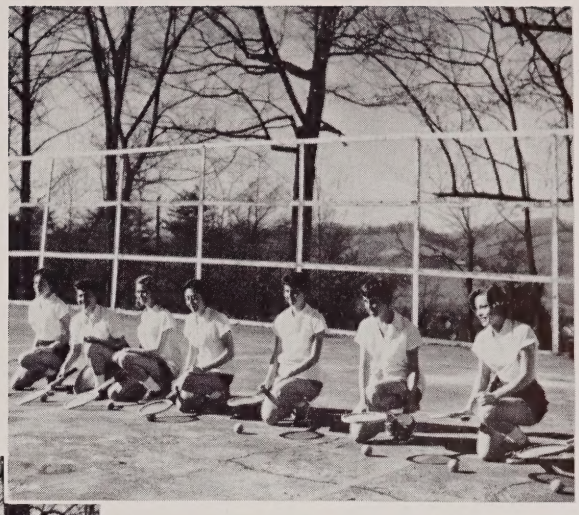
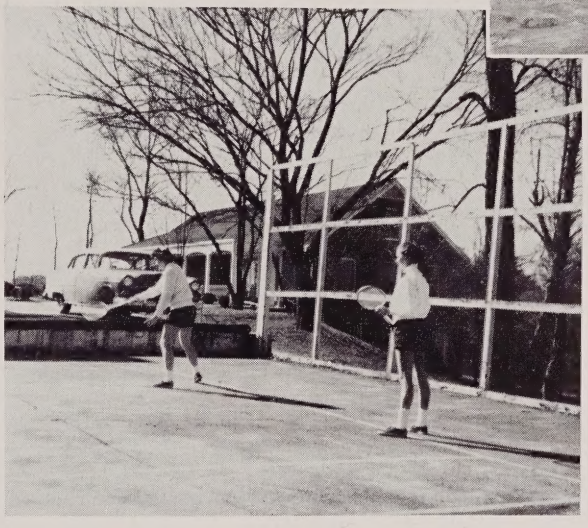
Spring's the Time for Tennis

Tennis is one of the favorite sports played at Sullins. Many of the girls who have never played are learning; others who already play are learning the finer points and polishing their game.

Each spring there are intramurals in which the top players compete, playing three sets each until all but one are eliminated and there is a winner.



Mrs. Heflin's class warms up for a tennis game.



Leslie and Mary take advantage of a spring day to play tennis.

Girls Learn Golf

Early last fall about twenty enthusiastic golfers boarded a bus for the Bristol Country Club to take lessons from professional Charles Walk. They learned the proper way to grip and swing the clubs and soon were taking turns swinging, driving, and putting.

Again in the spring these girls went into action, learning the rules and courtesies of the game and putting into practice techniques they had mastered.

Life Saving Class Receives Certificates

Miss Davis demonstrates technique of artificial respiration.

Senior life saving is offered to the girls at Sullins who want to receive a certificate or to review the course. Miss Helen Davis is the instructor.

Life saving is held in the college pool from 1:30 to 2:25 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons. It consists of lectures and practical applications in the field of life saving and water safety.

Those girls completing fifteen hours and passing a written test and water test receive Senior Red Cross Life Saving Certificates.

Island Activities Feature Water Sports

Owned and operated by Sullins College, the new Camp Sequoya, popularly known as "The Island," is located in the South Holston Mountains about one hour's ride away in the "Green Machine."

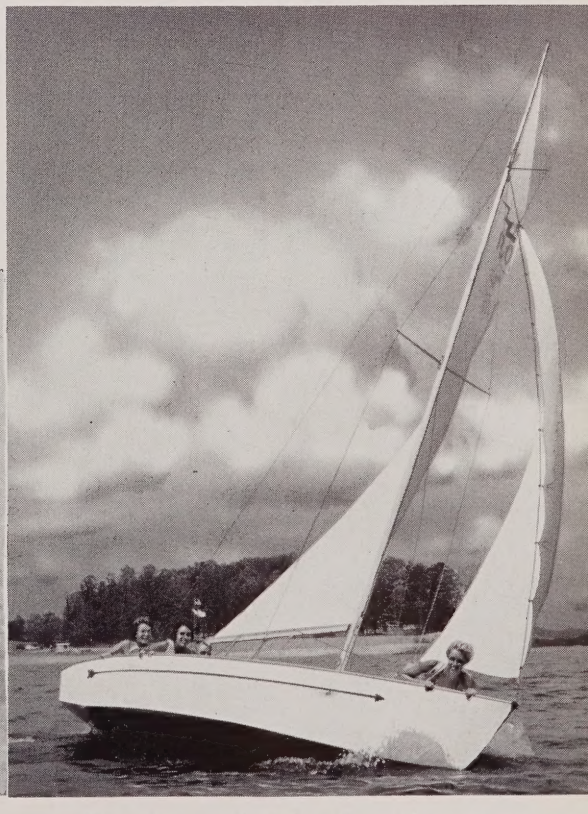
Water sports are an important part of activities at the "Island."

Everybody loves the fireplace in the lodge on a cold week end.

Almost every weekend girls go out to the Island, where they can do much as they please—loaf, eat, hike, sleep, or toast marshmallows by the fire in the Camp Sequoya Lodge.

In the spring, the waterfront is the main attraction. Besides a new Olympic-size swimming pool, there are sailfish, canoes, sailboats, and motor boats.

The Olympic-size pool is used for exhibition swimming and diving.



When the sun and wind are just right, nothing is more fun than sailing.

Hoofprints Club Has Its Own Lodge

Nearly every afternoon, rain or shine, Hoofprints Club members meet at the barn to ride. All students who take riding are automatically members of the club and can enjoy the fun available for them.

They can also enjoy the facilities of the Hoofprints Lodge, their attractive clubhouse, where a warm fire, trophies, and horse show ribbons set a tone of friendliness and good fellowship for any party.

Once a month meetings are held with the sponsor, Miss Barbara Hatcher, and the president, Dottie Moore, to plan activities. Interesting events discussed during the year include trips to area horse shows—where some of the girls will participate, while others will observe—the banquet at the Island in April, movies shown in theory classes, or the Kentucky Derby trip. This live-wire group never lacks for ideas or ways to carry them out.

Penny Critchley receives the blue ribbon in the Commencement Horse Show.

Every Sunday morning Hoofprints Club members have a standing engagement to provide doughnuts and coffee for the late sleepers in the dorms.

The club's Christmas party, with decorated tree, special refreshments, and blazing fire gave a cheery sendoff for the winter holidays. In March just before spring vacation, the Hoofprints Club sponsored an informal dance for the whole student body.

With the horses always ready to work, the indoor ring for bad weather, two outside rings, plus the field hunt course, and Sunday trail rides, Hoofprints members take full advantage of all their opportunities.

Much of the work of the whole club is directed towards preparing for the Commencement Horse Show, which is the climax of the year for the club and for the riding department as a whole.

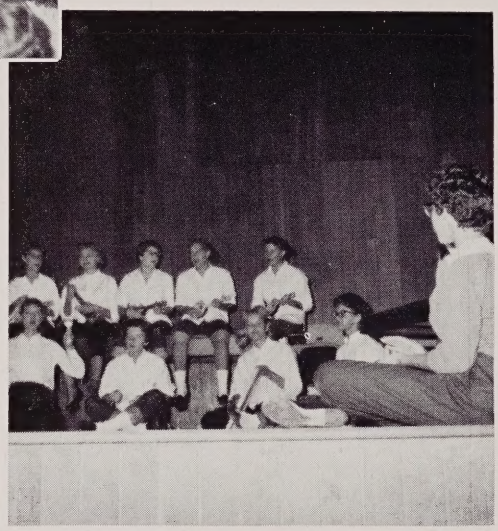
ACTIVITIES

Of These Our Memories are Made . . .

Nancy and Sullins' "Little Blue Man" at the first Hut party.

Sullins, here we come! That had been the Juniors' theme all summer. When they arrived, the Seniors were waiting to meet them and help them get settled for their first year of college life. After a siege of tests, we went to the "Island" for a weekend of eating, sleeping, and getting acquainted. Skit night was held there, with all the Junior halls competing for the best skit—and a tremendous cake.

In between classes and conferences, we had some Hut parties, where entertainment, food, and dancing were the main objectives.



Fourth Reynolds imitates the "Pickers" for their skit.

Before we knew it, there were Presidents' Council Banquet, trips to VPI, and then Rat Week. Seniors relived their own experiences when yelling "Flood!" or "Air Raid!" By the time we could catch a breath, it was time for "Fall Frolics," with Billy May's Orchestra playing.

Rat Week! with "floods," beanies, and waste baskets.

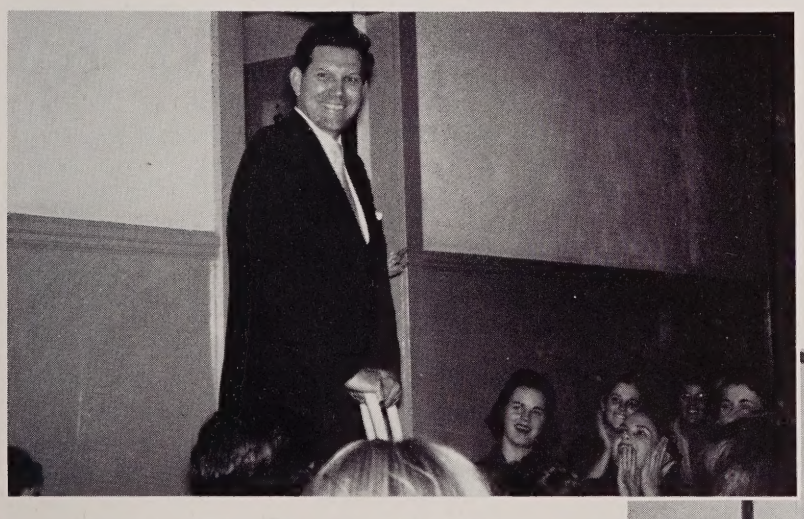
Puddin snaps our pictures at the Y Hallowe'en Booth.

Better watch shaving those balloons, Linda—they are filled with whipped cream.

Hallowe'en, with its goblins and ghosts, came to Sullins in the form of a Hallowe'en Carnival. With the clubs sponsoring booths like the Y's comic picture-taking booth and the AA's Penny Arcade, everyone had fun and left with prizes and "treats."

After mid-term tests and that blue period that follows grades, our spirits were lifted by the visit of Brian Sullivan, the Metropolitan Opera singer, who gave a program in chapel. His daughter, Pat, one of our Sullins Suzies, saw that he met all the girls; and he sang to us informally up on the third floor of Martin. We were all thrilled by his visit and sorry when he had to leave!

What is so interesting? Hallowe'en costumes maybe?



Brian Sullivan serenades on third Martin.

Broadway comes to Sullins with "Our Town."

Sullins Players become make-up artists.

November came in with snow, mid-semesters, Religious Emphasis Week, and the Baileys' open house.

Soon the talk was of try-outs, scripts, and costumes. That meant Sullins Players were at work. With the thrill and excitement of a first night, the play, "Our Town," was performed for a full house.

We stopped our Thanksgiving holiday packing to go to the dance recital, which inspired us to try to be more graceful and seek any talent that might lie hidden.

After the holidays, we worked hard at turning our halls into a Christmas land of decorations we ourselves had made.

Homework takes a back seat to Christmas decorating.

The Dance recital takes us into a land of grace and beauty.

What happened to you all? It's Christmas caroling time.

Cocoa time for the carolers.

With the halls all decorated and waiting to be judged, preparations for the dance, the SAMPLER Christmas Dance, began. Tired but happy afterwards, we eagerly looked forward to the Junior Banquet, when Mardi Gras plans were announced.

Scarves, mittens, and the warmest clothes meant nothing but Christmas caroling. Cold, but in high spirits after the caroling, we came back to a party of cocoa and cookies.

The Christmas concert by the Choir and the Y's party for underprivileged children sent us on our way home for the holidays with the true Christmas spirit.

Mardi Gras

BETTE HUNT, Queen

Before the opening curtain of the play, "Bittersweet," the Mardi Gras Court, Princess, and Queen were presented to the Sullins audience. The members of the court wore lovely bouffant gowns of vibrant coral and carried bouquets of carnations mixed with bittersweet, which further represented the theme of the play. The pages Patricia DeWitt and Dana Silliman, wore short cocktail dresses of the same color and material, silk organza.

As she was announced, the Princess of Mardi Gras, Caro Cay, came down the aisle in a cloud of pale blue lace and net, a very, very lovely princess, indeed. After Caro had taken her place on the stage with the court, Bette Hunt, the Queen of Mardi Gras, approached the stage in a manner befitting any queen. Radiant and beautiful in a gown of purest white, she was crowned by her mother, a Sullins Alumnae and former Mardi Gras Queen.

The dances add color to the production.

The bridesmaids beg with Sarah not to marry Carl.

Binnie, in the role of Manon, captures everyone's heart.

In Noel Coward's "Bittersweet," the traditional Mardi Gras play of this year, Theresa Ward took the lead, with Harper Darden, of Richmond, playing opposite her. Binnie Pulliam played the part of Manon, the vivacious French singer, who made the third one of the triangle.

So well did actors, singers, and dancers in the cast of 110 blend their talents that no one could have said which was the most important—story, song, or choreography. We were proud of them all.

Carl and Sarah make plans for their own cafe some day.

Carl's death ends a beautiful love story.

Old friends meet again at the Alumnae Coffee.

The tea dance transports us into a true Mardi Gras World.

Saturday, February 21, was a full and exciting day, with the Hut Party and the Alumnae Chapel in the morning, and the Tea Dance in the afternoon.

That night, the Grand Mardi Gras Ball, at which the queen and her court were again presented with pomp and circumstance, was held at the General Shelby Hotel, with Lester Lanin and his Travelers furnishing the music. As the midnight hour neared, there were a few tears and pangs of sorrow that the long-awaited Mardi Gras was really coming to a close.

Caro, escorted by her two favorites, is a radiant princess.

The Ball is the climax to a wonderful week end.

Mr. Trayer and Bette invade the kitchen to help with the Judi Board's Pizza party.

Who said second semester was slow? Not us! After Mardi Gras, the Juniors worked on term papers, while the Seniors just worked! We did relax, though, at a pizza party at the Hut, decorated Italian style, with posters and Bohemian candles.

Miss Davis and her "uke" make the pizza party entertainment complete.

It is "anchors away" for our Annapolis-bound Suzies.

Annapolis trips, final work on the SAMPLER, and the Phi Theta Kappa induction of its new members seemed to bring spring holidays a little closer. Would it be a trip to Bermuda or home? It was really a problem choice but home won out for most of us.

It's always nice to get pinned—especially by Phi Theta Kappa.

Susan Rodgers is the Apple Blossom Princess for 1959.

Spring had come at last! Apple Blossom Queen, Glamour Girl, and May Queen, Princess, and Court were elected. It was an exciting time for the Seniors, with many "Congratulations to you!" sung in the dining room . . . Time was flying—Warm spring days brought sun baths, iced tea, cotton dresses, and weekend trips to the Island.

Suddenly we realized that the end was near. For the Seniors it was sad, and yet happy, too. The year closed with the issuing of the SAMPLERS, Honors Day assembly, exams, the Fashion Show, and then May Day . . .

In May our favorite occupation is SAMPLER signing.

When the Seniors began to think of graduation, they also thought of May Day. They chose Gale Mooney as their Queen, Mary Hall as Princess, and Carolyn Grigg and Beverly Hampson as Pages. The May Court was made up of twenty pretty girls, also traditionally chosen from the Senior class.

The May Queen, Princess, and Court reign during graduation week end.

Graduation week end opened with the May Pageant in the Sylvan Theatre on Friday. With parents and visitors looking on, and with the full Court in attendance, the lovely May Queen was crowned. After this impressive ceremony, the Music and Dance Departments presented a pageant truly fit for a queen. The perfect ending to May Day was the Music Department's final recital that evening in the chapel.

The Sylvan Theatre is the setting for the May Day performance.

One of the week end highlights—the annual horse show.

The next morning everyone was up early to finish last-minute packing, to make that last visit to favorite haunts, and to eat that last "late breakfast" at the Hut.

Saturday afternoon was bright and sunny—the perfect day for the annual Commencement Horse Show. Both Juniors and Seniors who had been loyal members of the "boots and Jodhpur" set all year competed for the coveted blue ribbons. Afterwards, the members of the Hoofprints Club held open house at their lodge, with the "Pickers" adding to the fun with their rollicking tunes.

Art majors present their final work at the annual art exhibit.

In their spacious and well-lighted studios, the Junior and Senior art majors presented their best work of the year in fashion design, sculpture, interiors, and drawing and painting. They worked hard all during the year in preparation for this final art exhibit.

The Graduation Ball, which was held out under the stars, was a dream dance come true. During the ball, the members of the Senior Class were presented with their escorts, and the dance following was reserved just for them. Then the ball continued, with everyone joining in the dreamy spell of music, starlight, and dancing.

Capping of the Juniors takes place during the Daisy Chain.

In the Daisy Chain on Sunday afternoon, the Juniors were capped by the Seniors whose offices they will hold next year. The two classes sang their class songs and then sang the Sullins Alma Mater together.

After the Daisy Chain, just as the sun was disappearing behind the campus hills, the Seniors, with a final nervous adjustment of their caps and gowns, marched down to receive their coveted diplomas.

The Smorgasbord on Commencement Day is something to remember.

Graduation completes this phase of our life's mosaic.

This is the end of our two years at Sullins. Two years ago, our mosaic was a dream; now it is a reality. We have taken something abstract and made it concrete. The painful, gauche experiences have become subtle charm and poise. The helter-skelter knowledge has become organized; and there is a discernible plan. Talent and resources have been forced into appropriate directions. We carry with us the experiences and discoveries, the high moods and the blues, the ability to make decisions, and the memories of the good and the bad.

We have not completed the design. For each of us the finished form will be different. Yet in our two years at Sullins, we have found the pieces that fitted our individual pattern—and by this pattern we shall finish our life's mosaic.
